

WHAT IS THE ZOONIVERSE?

The Wisdom Of The Crowd

The Zooniverse is the world's largest platform for people-powered research. We connect professional researchers with millions of volunteers worldwide. Facilitating real results from impractical, or otherwise impossible research. This has led to new discoveries, policy impacts, and research publications.

Our platform is driven by volunteers, like you. All ages and backgrounds are welcome to participate, no PhD required — just a sense of wonder and a few clicks. Many of the most interesting findings from Zooniverse projects have emerged from discussions between volunteers and researchers.

Join today to take part in cutting-edge research and make your own discoveries! Get started today at:

HOW IT WORKS

As a volunteer:

-  Find a project that piques your curiosity
Browse from a large variety of disciplines shown below
-  Learn how to contribute
Follow simple guides to understand how to submit accurate classifications
-  Make real contributions to science
Submit your classifications and play a role in ongoing research
-  Earn official recognition for your work
Generate a certificate that validates your impact!

As a researcher:

-  Build your project using the Zooniverse Project Builder
Design tasks, upload data, and customize your workflow
-  Submit your project for review and approval
Prepare your project for public engagement
-  Launch your project
Engage with volunteers while the classifications accumulate
-  Download your data
Analyze your research and publish your results!
